- Designated Speakers: Outline issues assigned to them in the talking points
- Note taker: Takes notes during the meeting & provides these notes to SAALT staff.

Focus 1: Executive Action

- Over 40% of the 450,000 undocumented Indians in the United States and countless more South Asians are eligible for programs under executive action
- Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) and Deferred Action for Parental Accountability (DAPA) are important choices for South Asians in the United States
- DACA and DAPA cannot be eliminated or weakened
- Executive Action is an important first step toward Comprehensive Immigration Reform and we need to ensure that it moves forward without obstruction

Focus 2: Comprehensive Immigration Reform

- According to a 2015 America's Voice Poll, more than ¾ of Americans support a path to citizenship or legal status
- Currently, some states have laws supporting undocumented and all immigrant communities while others have laws that criminalize undocumented immigrants
- Without Comprehensive Immigration Reform, we will continue to have a two-tiered system that denies many immigrants basic rights and condemns them to second-class status. We need a unified system, not a patchwork of laws.

Focus 3: Racial and Religious Profiling

- Racial and religious profiling by law enforcement has proven time and again to be ineffective.
- The South Asian community has already suffered many years of racial profiling, particularly post-9/11.
- The newly revised DOJ Guidance has three exemptions for national security, border security, and state and local law enforcement that negatively affect South Asians and other communities of color nationwide.

Blueprint for a Legislative Meeting

Step 1: Introduce yourselves

Step 2: Introduce South Asian community including contributions and personal experience

Step 3: Raise issues of concern regarding immigration and racial profiling

- Focus for Immigration:
  - Executive Action
  - Comprehensive Immigration Reform

Focus for Racial and Religious Profiling

- DOJ Guidance
- End Racial Profiling Act

Blueprint for a Legislative Meeting

Step 4: Engage in a dialogue about legislator's priorities and perspectives on immigration and racial profiling & thoughts on these issues

Step 5: Return to your overarching messages

Step 6: Offer resources

Step 7: Find out main point of contact for office

Step 1: Who You Are & Why You Are There

- Thank them for meeting
- Introduce yourself & where you are from
- Mention participation in an Advocacy Day for the South Asian community
- Explain reasons for meeting:
  - Tell them about SA community
  - Raise issues of concern for SA community regarding immigration and racial profiling
  - Ask them to support executive action and Comprehensive Immigration Reform as well as the End Racial Profiling Act
  - Learn their immigration and racial profiling priorities

Step 2: Introduce the South Asian Community Generally

- South Asians come from:
  - The subcontinent: India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Nepal, Sri Lanka, Bhutan, Maldives
  - The diaspora: Caribbean, England, Africa, Middle East, Canada
- Over 3.4 million South Asians live in the United States, approximately ¾ are foreign-born.
- South Asians have range of immigration statuses: undocumented immigrants, dependent & temporary workers on various visas, refugees & asylees, lawful permanent residents, & U.S. citizens.

Step 2: Introduce the South Asian Community in terms of Immigration

- South Asians often framed as benefiting exclusively from policies related to skilled workers or science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) graduates – this is not true.
- South Asians span a range of skill sets and immigration statuses often in the same family.
- There are currently 450,000 undocumented Indians in the United States and countless more South Asians
- Message: South Asians are a diverse group of people that cross various statuses and professions. There are a significant number of undocumented immigrants in our community and we all need lasting immigration reform.

Step 2: Introduce the South Asian Community in terms of Immigration

South Asian Americans are affected by Executive Action

- Over 40% of the 450,000 undocumented Indians and countless more South Asians qualify for DACA and DAPA
- The first successful rule under the President's executive action expanding work authorization for some H-4 dependent spouses benefitted many South Asians.
  - In 2013, over 75% of those who received H-4 status were from South Asian countries
- Encouraging that Secure Communities has been replaced with the Priority Enforcement Program, ending mandatory detentions
  - Under Secure Communities, the majority of those deported did not fir the stated priorities for enforcement. South Asians were likely to be stopped and have their status checked at disproportionate frequency.

Step 3: Raise Issues of Concern & Make Your Ask

Focus 1: Executive Action

- There have been recent attempts in Congress to derail DACA and DAPA
  - The first was the Department of Homeland Security Appropriations Act earlier this year
  - The second was the recent Senate Budget Resolution
  - Versions of these bills attempted to deny DACA and DAPA recipients eligibility for the Child Tax Credit, Earned Income Tax Credit, Medicare, and Social Security as well as reinstate Secure Communities

Step 3: Raise Issues of Concern & Ask

Focus 1: Executive Action

- Ask: Will you continue to support DACA and DAPA and help ensure sure that legislation intended to weaken or eliminate executive action is defeated once and for all?
- Message: Executive Action is an important first step toward Comprehensive Immigration Reform.

Step 3: Raise Issues of Concern & Ask

Focus 2: Comprehensive Immigration Reform

- Currently, some states have law supporting undocumented and all immigrant communities while others have laws criminalizing undocumented immigrants
  - State laws that expand opportunities for immigrants allow undocumented residents access to drivers licenses and affordable higher education
  - State laws that criminalize include SB 1070 in Arizona and the copycat laws in other states that racially profile and target immigrants for deportation
- Without Comprehensive Immigration Reform, we will continue to have a patchwork of immigration policies
- We support a bill that clears our unacceptably long visa backlogs and continues to raise the visa caps so that our family members can join us here

Step 3: Raise Issues of Concern & Ask

Focus 2: Comprehensive Immigration Reform

- Ask: Will you support Comprehensive Immigration Reform?
- Message: Comprehensive Immigration Reform is the only viable long-term option
  - It will unify our immigration policies
  - It will protect all immigrants
  - It will expand our nation's economy and our future

Step 3: Raise Issues of Concern & Make Your Ask

Focus 3: Racial and Religious Profiling

- Racial profiling by law enforcement has proven time and again to be ineffective. It deters South Asians from reporting crimes, sharing information, or serving as witnesses.
- The South Asian community has already suffered many years of racial profiling, particularly post-9/11, which has furthered stereotypes about South Asians and pushed community members into the shadows.
- The newly revised DOJ Guidance has three exemptions for national security, border security, and state and local law enforcement that negatively affect South Asians and other communities of color.

Step 3: Raise Issues of Concern & Ask

Focus 3: Racial and Religious Profiling

- Ask: Will you continue to highlight the problematic exemptions to the DOJ Guidance? Will you support the End Racial Profiling Act?
- Message: Racial and religious profiling by law enforcement must end
  - We must improve relationships between law enforcement and South Asian communities
  - We need to respond to hate violence targeting our communities

Step 4: Engage in a Dialogue

- Ask them what their immigration and racial profiling priorities are
- Ask them what their positions are on executive action, Comprehensive Immigration Reform, and the End Racial Profiling Act
- If they can't give you a response, ask them when they will know and if SAALT can follow-up to find out

Step 5: Return to Your Overarching Messages

- Executive Action must move forward without obstruction and we need Comprehensive Immigration Reform.
- The DOJ Guidance continues to have problematic loopholes.
- We must pass the End Racial Profiling Act.
